JACK THE SLASHER.

A Mysterious Man Who Wielded a Deadly Razor.

THROATS OF DRUNKEN MEN CUT.

Seven People Fall Victims to His Murderous Work Before He is Finally Captured by the New York Police—He Proves to Be a Very Dangerous Insane Man.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—Jack the Slasher, a mysterious individual, who, since Dec. 29, has amused himself by cutting the throats of drunken men with a razor, and has been the terror of night travelers in the Fourth ward, was captured at an early hour yesterday morning red-handed. He inveigled his victim, a drunken man, to an unfrequented street and then, catching the man around the neck with one hand, with the other he drew a keen razor across his throat. He then slunk away, but an officer, who had been watching him for some time, and who had been unable to come up in time to save the drunken man from injury, gave pursuit, and with the aid of other officers soon captured the slasher.

Inspector Byrnes has no doubt that he has the right man, at whose door also is laid the death of John Carson, the Baltimore lawyer, and the dangerous wounding of five other men. The prisoner's name is Henry G. Dowd. He is well connected, so far as his family is concerned, but his habits have long made him a social outcast, and for two years, at least, he has had no other home than the cheap lodging houses on the Bowery afford. He is about forty-three years old and is believed to be insane.

Dowd's seventh victim is a man named William Miller, forty-five years old, of 328 West Third street, who was walking along James street in a drunken condition. His throat was badly cut and he was taken to the hospital.

Dowd was arraigned yesterday morning in a police court and was from there remanded to the care of Inspector Byrnes. Inspector Byrnes then gave the following as the list of victims of the man who has been dubbed by the police as "Jack the Slasher," because of the peculiar methods pursued by the criminal.

John Hefflin, of 318 East Eighteenth street, cut by some person unknown on Dec. 30 last. This was the first case.

Louis Lawson, of 5 Albany street; throat cut on Jan. 8.

John Clark, of Elizabeth, N. J., throat cut on Jan. 9.

George Williams, of Brooklyn, throat slashed on Jan. 11.

Edward Christensen, a Swede, throat slashed on Jan. 12.

John Carson, throat cut from ear to ear; found dead Jan. 15.

All these crimes happening in the same locality, with the victims all being cut in the same place, led the police to believe that one man, evidently insane, was their author, and they accordingly took extra precautions to run down the midnight assassin. Two scores of detectives, under the personal supervision of Inspector Byrnes, were placed about the infested district, with orders to keep a strict watch and to follow any and all suspected persons.

Shortly after 2 o'clock yesterday morning one of these officers, Detective Masterson, was standing on the corner of New Chambers and Roosevelt streets, when he saw a strange man approach him from the opposite side of the street. The stranger had a handkerchief tied around his head which partially concealed his features. The man came close to the officer, peered in the latter's face, evidently to see if he was drunk, and then walked away. The officer followed at a respectful distance. The man haunted all the neighboring thoroughfares and when a belated traveler approached, scanned him closely. He finally stood in a dark doorway at the corner of Roosevelt and Oak streets, while the officer concealed himself a little further down the street.

Soon a man who from his staggering condition was evidently intoxicated came along. The stranger in the doorway immediately joined the drunken man, and after a moment's conversation the two walked on together, with the officer, as before, following some distance behind. The stranger led the inebriated man through several streets and finally into James street, which appeared to be deserted. In front of 86 of this street the pair stopped and the officer darted into a doorway. He was not a moment too soon, for the stranger gave furtive glances up and down the street, and then, thinking he was alone with his victim, put one arm around the drunken man's neck and with the other he drew a razor across his throat. The drunken man dropped to the sidewalk without a struggle while the assassin darted away.

The officer by this time was in close pursuit and a lively chase followed. Other officers who were signalled on the way took part in the pursuit with the result that at the corner of James and New Chambers streets they captured their man. The man struggled some, but a tap from an officer's long night stick put an end to his resistance. When caught the prisoner had one hand in his overcoat pocket, and in this hand he had a razor covered with blood. The prisoner was taken to the Oak street police station, which Inspector Byrnes had made his headquarters during the night.

In the meantime an ambulance had been called and the wounded man was transferred to the hospital. He had an ugly wound in his throat and was in a semi-conscious condition, but he managed to give his name and address. At the station house the prisoner was closely questioned by the inspector. He told very little, and this little was conflicting. He at first admitted the cutting, which he said he did in self-defense, but afterwards he contradicted this and said he knew nothing of the affair, and that he did not do the cutting. He was then locked up for the night.

After his preliminary examination in the police court yesterday morning, Dowd, the name given by the slasher, was taken to Bellevue hospital, where Clark, the man who was cut on Jan. 9, is being treated for the injuries inflicted by the slasher. Clark positively identified Dowd as the man who had assaulted him. The prisoner was then conveyed to police headquarters where he made a confession of his crimes, or some of them. He said that the impulse to kill under some circumstances was uncontrollable. He said that he wanted to kill all the Dutchmen, for whom he was seeking all the time. The reason for this was that a German had once raped his mother at her home in Brooklyn. The face of the ravisher still haunted him, and when he saw a man who looked like the one he was pursuing, he tried to kill him.

"Why did you kill Carson, he was not a German?" the inspector asked.

"I couldn't help it," was the reply. Then, seeing his error, he quickly corrected himself, saying he did not kill Carson at all.

Dowd's room was searched by the police, who found blood-stained clothing therein. The sleeves of the prisoner's shirt were also full of blood stains. The stains were not new, and could not have come from the wounds of the victim of yesterday morning.

The razor, however, is the strongest link connecting him with the murder of ex-lawyer Carson, of Baltimore, who was found dead on Chrystie street Friday morning with his throat cut. As no weapon was found near the body the police presumed that it was a case of murder. At the autopsy on Carson's body, the physicians found that the wound had been made with a knife or razor whose edge was slightly ragged. The weapon found on the prisoner yesterday has a jagged edge, and the physicians who examined Carson's body, when shown Dowd's razor, said the wounds of Carson had been made with a weapon like the one before them.

Henry G. Dowd, the slasher, is an Englishman by birth and is one of the children of Patrick M. Dowd, the civil engineer who was engaged in laying out the Central park. He is well connected on his mother's side, his mother's sister having married Samuel N. Hoyt, brother of the late Jesse Hoyt, the famous millionaire whose will was so vigorously contested by his daughter, Mary Irene Hoyt. All who know the prisoner say they always considered him insane, and it is said that Dowd was once confined in an insane asylum from which he escaped.

MAIL DISTRIBUTOR MURDERED.

Sensational Shooting of an Employee of the Cincinnati Postoffice.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 18.—Some time ago David M. Patton and John Sheehan, two men employed in the distributing department of the postoffice, had a slight falling out. Here lately Sheehan has been drinking heavily and neglecting his work, and Saturday morning he was dismissed. In the evening, being well under the influence of liquor and imagining Patton had something to do with his discharge, he called at the postoffice and, calling Patton to the door, deliberately shot him down, the ball taking effect in his right side, producing a serious and probably fatal wound. Sheehan then made his escape and has not yet been captured by the police. Patton was removed to the hospital, where he is now lying, but with slight hope of recovery.

Both young men were liked, but Sheehan's associates avoided him when he was under the influence of liquor, as he was inclined to be ugly. Both have been in the postal service for about two years. Patton came here from Brown county and went to work in the registry department. He is twenty-five years of age, single, and lives at 195 West Sixth street.

Sheehan has been in the distributing department of the office since his connection with the postal service. He is twenty years of age, and lives at the home of his father, on Warsaw pike, Price Hill.

LOOKS SUSPICIOUS

An Insurance Claim That Was Not Readily Paid.

GLENS FALLS, N. Y., Jan. 18.—Was kerosene oil used in the destruction of Robert Holland's house in Weavertown, this county, is the question the Imperial Insurance company, through a Glens Falls agency, desires to have answered. Some weeks ago the house of Mr. Holland was burned to the ground. Upon the property so destroyed was an insurance of $1,000. Holland claimed that he had lost considerable furniture, two wagons, three horses, a dog cart and a lot of potatoes in the fire.

Special agents found a man who removed the potatoes before the fire, and the three horses were driven to North Creek and Johnsburg two days before the fire. A man who entered the building on the night of the fire made an affidavit that there was but little furniture in the house, and that the flames were chasing each other over the walls as if the place had been sprinkled with kerosene oil. The agent has also discovered that Holland purchased a gallon of kerosene at three different stores on the day before the conflagration.

Emery Wheel Burns.

NORWALK, O., Jan. 18.—J. A. Howe, foreman at Sprague & French's umbrella factory, was seriously injured Saturday by the bursting of an emery wheel. He was sharpening a forked chisel at the time. A piece of the wheel struck his spectacles, filling his right eye full of glass. The eye is so badly cut it is feared that Mr. Howe will lose it sight.

YORK, Pa., Jan. 18.—Judges Latimer and Rittenger refused William Henry Painton a new trial, and sentenced him to be hanged.

CHILI AND CONGRESS

Some Startling Developments Expected This Week.

WAR MIGHT BE DECLARED.

If the Chilean Correspondence is Made Public It is Thought That Congress Will Declare War Within Twenty-Four Hours Thereafter—The Chilean Situation Not Improved—More Ammunition Ordered Shipped to San Francisco.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—The program and work of congress this week will depend almost entirely on whether the president sends the Chilean correspondence to its respective branches or not. If the correspondence is sent in, and this is probable, no one can foretell what the result may be. Within twenty-four hours after its receipt congress might declare war. Nearly everything depends on the tone of the president's letter of transmittal, in which it is presumed he will embody some recommendations.

So patriotic is the feeling among members of congress that it is reasonable to suppose that suggestions made by the president will be promptly endorsed by congress. The correspondence would, in its ordinary procedure, go to the committee on foreign relations of the senate and the committee on foreign affairs of the house, but the situation of affairs has, it is thought by many, assumed such a grave aspect that both houses will probably take up the correspondence, if it is sent in, and give it immediate consideration.

The correspondence itself is said to be of such a nature that it will serve to fan the war-like flame that has warmed up the patriotism of congressmen. A member of congress, who has assisted the president in preparing some of it, is authority for the statement that the legislative branch of the government would declare war without delay upon hearing the correspondence read, without even a suggestion from the president. In the absence of the receipt of the Chilean correspondence, congress may, from present indications, devote a great deal of its time during the week to routine work.

The senate will do nothing of importance, the introduction and discussion of minor measures being the principal business likely to come before it. The nominations of the judges for the newly-created circuits are still hung up in the judiciary committee awaiting the return from Indiana of Senator Voorhees, who has secured the postponement of all these nominations by his opposition to Judge Woods. It is probable that Senator Voorhees will appear before the committee this week and make his charges, and it is possible that all the nominations will be reported to the senate before the week ends.

The house has no program arranged, further than that on Monday when Mr. Richardson, of Tennessee, will call up the bill already reported by the special committee, to reorganize the present method of doing the public printing. The day, if the Chilean correspondence does not appear, will be devoted to the introduction of bills. Beyond this it is difficult to predict with any degree of certainty what may develop in the house during the coming week. The proceedings today may be remarkably tame and routine in character, or exceedingly lively and exciting before the week is out.

CHILIAN SITUATION.

It Has Not Improved by Recent Developments.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—The Chilean situation has not been improved by the developments of the past few days which have just come to light. As was stated in the United Press dispatches a few days ago, the offensive note of Senator Matta, minister of foreign affairs in the provisional government of Chili, despite the report to the contrary, had not then been withdrawn or disavowed.

A day or two ago, however, Senator Pedro Montt, the Chilean minister, was instructed by his home government to withdraw it, but it is understood that the offer of withdrawal was accompanied by conditions or explanations by the Chilean government which were unsatisfactory to the United States. Minister Egan, it is said, was directed to communicate to Senator Peirera, minister of foreign affairs, the dissatisfaction of this government with the terms of the withdrawal, but his interview with that official is said to have resulted in no modification of the instructions to Senator Montt, which would render them acceptable to the United States.

No confirmation can be had of the report that Minister Egan has communicated to President Harrison an intimation that the Chilean government is on the verge of dissolution and that this fact prevented the president from sending the Chilean correspondence to congress last week. It is most improbable, although the belief that a change of administration in Chili is a matter of a short time only, is held by some well informed persons in Washington.

But Mr. Egan does not communicate with President Harrison; his dispatches are to the secretary of state and such a breach as communicating with the president direct would be sufficient reason for his immediate recall. Such a dispatch as that indicated has not been received at the department, at least the officials deny all knowledge of it.

It is expected that orders will be sent, if they have not already gone, to Captain Evans, of the Yorktown, to carry the refugees placed aboard the ship by Minister Egan to some convenient port in Peru, but the exact destination will probably be left to the discretion of the Yorktown's commander.

The following dispatch was received by the secretary of the navy yesterday: VALPARAISO, Jan. 16, 1892.

Secretary of the Navy, Washington: The American minister informs me that the Chilean minister of foreign affairs has changed his mind about refugees now on the Yorktown, and that they may be taken out of any merchant vessel touching at a Chilean port by local authority. Arrangements had been made for all of them to sail today, but this change of base on the part of the Chilean minister of foreign affairs compels me to keep them, which crowds me very much. Shall I land them at Callao, Peru or Molendo, Peru? No steamers from here go direct to neutral territory. This unexpected act of the Chilean minister of foreign affairs is due, he states, in part to my saluting the Spanish minister when he came aboard to deliver two (2) referees. I have requested the American minister to say to the minister of foreign affairs that I am responsible to my own government and not to that of Chili in such matters, and that I consider his criticism offensive and I will not accept it. His action seems unworthy of the representative of a serious government.

EVANS.

This Looks Like War Preparations.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—The navy department on Saturday ordered another shipment of 20,000 pounds of gun cotton from New York to the Mare Island navy yard. The explosive was packed in copper casks, containing 200 pounds each, and instructions were given to expedite the shipment in every way possible.

OVER AN EMBANKMENT.

Fifteen Persons Seriously Injured in a Railway Accident.

SPARTA, Wis., Jan. 18.—The regular southbound passenger train that left this city over the Viroqua branch of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad at 8 o'clock Saturday morning, was wrecked below Westly, a small station, eighteen miles south of this city.

The baggage car and one passenger coach loaded with delegates returning from the Masonic dedication ceremony in this city were hurled down a twenty-foot embankment, and fourteen of the passengers received serious injuries. A scene of horror instantly ensued. The wreck took fire, but everybody was removed from the burning cars before the flames reached any of the struggling victims.

Following is a list of those most seriously injured:

M. W. A. Ranson, of Viroqua, scalp wound.

Miss Olin, of Viroqua, head and neck bruised.

A. W. Burnet, badly cut, knee injured.

Mrs. L. C. Boyle, of Viroqua, injured about head.

Mrs. O. B. Wyman, of Viroqua, head and arm injured.

Miss P. Hanson, of Viroqua, nervous prostration.

N. C. Peterson, of Liberty Pole, scalp wound.

F. M. Towner, of Viroqua, injured internally.

Mrs. Julia Pulver, of Viroqua, injured about hips, arm bruised.

A. J. Moe, mail car, injured in the hip and side.

Otto Oterson, of Viroqua, hip bruised.

William Eyer, of Cashton, injured internally; bruised on the head.

Mrs. C. M. Culver, of Cashton, internal injuries, scalp wounds.

E. Rogers, express messenger, badly cut about the head.

Many others received minor injuries. It is believed that all will recover.

WATER SUPPLY GAVE OUT.

A Village at the Mercy of the Fire Fiend for Hours.

WAUSAU, Wis., Jan. 18.—Yesterday morning's fire which started in the opera house block on Third street, was the most destructive in the history of this place. In one hour nothing was left but blackened walls. The fire department was almost helpless, but kept the flames confined to the opera house until the water supply gave out, and connections were not made with the river for nearly two hours. This left the progress of the fire unimpeded, and rapidly spread north into the Cohen block, Arlington block and Canfield block.

The total loss is nearly $120,000. The losses to buildings were: On opera house block, owned by James McCrossen, Alex Stewart and Walt Alexander, and occupied by the Grand opera house, a bank, stores, offices and lodge rooms, $60,000; insurance, $10,000. L. S. Cohen's block, $5,000; no insurance. Arlington hotel, G. F. Bolis & Sons, $20,000; no insurance. The Canfield block, $15,000; partly insured.

Detroit After the Convention.

DETROIT, Jan. 18.—Detroit slipped up badly on the Republican national convention, but it does not propose to stand idly by and see some other city get the Democratic convention. So far $30,000 has been subscribed and enough pledged to make it $50,000. A committee of twenty-seven will leave today for Washington, headed by Governor Winans, ex-Congressman Mayberry, W. E. Quimby of The Free Press, Mayor Pingree and other prominent men. Considerable comment was occasioned by the fact that President Cleveland's postmaster general, Don M. Dickerson, who aspires to senatorial honors, has taken no part in the work and is not one of the committee.

A Fine Steamer Launched.

WILMINGTON, Del., Jan. 18.—The steamer New Hampshire, the second of two twin steamers being built for the Stonington line was launched at Harlan and Hollingsworth's yard Saturday. The steamer Maine, the sister ship of the New Hampshire, was launched on Oct. 31 last, and is now well along towards completion. Both of these fine vessels will be finished by next May, and will take their places on the Stonington line at the opening of the next summer season.

EVENING BULLETIN.

DAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAY.

ROSSER & MCCARTHY,
Proprietors.

MONDAY, JANUARY 18, 1892.

Isn't Maysville to be represented in that World's Fair promotion convention at Louisville this week?

This lottery must go, and the Geobell bill passed by the Senate Saturday will hasten their departure, if it becomes a law.

SENATOR HUFF, of Fleming, doesn't think the free-pass prohibitive clause of the new Constitution applies to the members of the present Legislature, and has introduced a resolution to that effect. He will likely learn better ere he is through with the matter. Why doesn't he accept a pass and bring the matter to a test?

THE election of U. S. Senators by a direct vote of the people would be more in conformity with a Republican form of Government, than the present system, and it would be more satisfactory. It is gratifying to see that the sentiment in favor of the change is growing. It has many advocates in Congress and already an unusual number of joint resolutions providing for an amendment to the Constitution, so that the proposition may become a certainty, have been introduced.

For the Farmer.

W. L. Brunlett, of Nicholas, took two car-loads of mules to Atlanta, but didn't sell any. Aged fat ones, ready for sale, are bringing from $65 to $85.

William Bush, of Fayette County, got 800 flat rails, two saw-logs, twenty-eight cords of wood and seven cart-loads of chips out of a $15 oak tree.

If cattlemen could see what kind of cattle bring the top of the market and what kind take the bottom of the market, and should compare notes and find that the steer that stands at the top costs no more to raise than the one that goes to the bottom, they would then be reaching for the top place.—Exchange.

Indicted for Egging Preacher Bees.

The grand jury of Bourbon County has at last called a halt on the rowdies at Millersburg. Saturday indictments were reported against Ernest Butler, Will Bedford, Will Mellvaine and Young Campbell, for throwing eggs at the Rev. John R. Reeves, Presiding Elder of the Maysville district, while he was going from the Methodist Church in Millersburg one evening in December. Campbell is a grandson of the late Governor Metcalfe, and the others all belong to prominent families. If they get the punishment they deserve, there will be no more egging of preachers at Millersburg.

Pithy Points From Washington.

Whisky and the traffic in it is the devil's main hold.

Look well to your sons that they go not to swell the great army of drunkards and imbeciles.

While the cure for drunkenness is being discussed on all sides, drunkard making holds its own everywhere, with no sign of abatement.

If men would address themselves more to the matter of curtailing drunkard making, there would not be so much need of drunkard curing.

When will the time come that all men who vend the decoction of hell, whisky, shall be classed where they rightfully belong, with incendiaries and murderers?

By all means let drunkards and drunkenness be cured, if a cure can be found, but don't lose sight of men who are constantly adding to the list by their hellish traffic.

Are there not enough men, who care nothing for the moral or material welfare of their neighbors, engaged in the rum traffic, that Christian (?) men should desire to take a hand in it?

Railway News.

The C. and O. has at last secured the E. L. and B. S. from Lexington to Ashland and the Ohio and Big Sandy from Ashland to Richardson, both important feeders. Speaking of the trade, M. E. Ingalls said: "Ever since the present management took control of the C. and O. we have had this thing in view. This present consummating deal has been on hand for six months. The terms of the deal include the taking up of the Ohio and Big Sandy and Elizabethtown, Lexington and Big Sandy 6 per cent. bonds and issuing C. and O. 4 1/2 per cent. bonds in their place. The cost of the Big Sandy road will be paid with a part of these bonds. For the first mortgage we shall give bond for bond. The certificates of indebtedness will be replaced by shares of C. and O. at the rate of one C. and O. for two Big Sandy." The length of the road thus secured is 150 miles. This purchase by the C. and O. is but part of a plan for a general re-organization of the company and an improvement of the system, which includes making it a double track.

LOTTERY SHARKS.

They are Given a Black Eye by the State Senate—The Goebble Bill Passed by a Big Majority

The lottery question was settled Saturday, as far as the State Senate is concerned, by the passage of the Goebble bill making it a felony to commit any sort of an act in running a lottery. The opposition to the bill was crystalized in Representative Newman's amendment to make the offense a misdemeanor instead of a felony. This would have changed the whole character of the measure, but it was defeated by a vote of 16 to 10. Senator Poyntz voted against the amendment. The bill was then passed by a vote of 19 to 7. Section two of the original bill proposes to hold whoever shall knowingly rent, or permit to be rented, any building, shop or office in which lottery business is conducted, guilty of a felony, punishable with from two to five years' imprisonment in the penitentiary.

The bill goes to the House for further action. It will likely be passed by that branch, as there is a strong sentiment against the evil.

THE Daily Blade of Portsmouth says: "She Couldn't Marry Three" drew a fair house only, owing to the frightful weather. The play was very good. It should be called 'She Couldn't Marry Four,' for four different men wanted to marry the girl. She only married one and had a hard time of it with him."

MINER'S MAXIMS.

Keep out of tight places if you want to keep your temper; wings are not necessary to fly into a passion.

Perhaps you can be too good to your feet, but it's difficult to see how. They're worth nothing at all if they're not worth the best leather that was ever fashioned into a pair of Shoes. Give your feet a chance; what sort of a chance would you have without them? A poor pair of Shoes is a poor return for all the faithful service they do.

You'll consult your sole interests and promote your sole interests if you get your Shoes from Miner. Under no circumstances can you deal with him to your disadvantage. Financially you'll be better off—it will cost you neither the loss of money nor the loss of temper. You'll know what you are buying before you begin to wear what you've bought.

Miner's Shoes are offered for sale and not for sail, but they sail under no false colors. An honest man is the noblest work of God, and an honest Shoe is the noblest work of man. Miner's Shoes are honest. They don't purport to be one thing and turn out to be another. They are what he says they are every time—legitimate, genuine, well-made, worth the money and absolutely sure to suit the purchaser.

DUKE AND CARDINAL

All England Mourns for the Two Great Men.

BOTH BODIES LYING IN STATE.

The Remains of the Duke of Clarence Will Not Be Taken to London, but Direct to Windsor—Fifty Thousand People View the Body of Cardinal Manning—Other Foreign News.

LONDON, Jan. 18.—General disappointment was expressed yesterday when it became known that the Duke of Clarence would not be brought to London, but would be conveyed direct from Sandringham to St. George's chapel, Windsor. This is said to have been decided at the instance of the Princess of Wales, who was opposed to having her son's funeral made the occasion of a public parade through the streets of London. It is also intimated that persons near to royalty feared that socialists or others of extremely radical sentiments might attempt a demonstration that would shock the already overstrained feelings of the royal family. It is said that the police have been apprehensive of this, and in case of a London funeral display, the utmost precautions would have been taken.

Anxiety was again aroused yesterday as to the queen's health by the news that she would not go to Windsor on the occasion of the interment. The reason assigned is that the royal physicians considered the weather too inclement for her majesty to face the exposure of the journey and the ceremony in her present frame of mind. While the queen is officially declared to be well, it is known that her physicians are in daily attendance and are constantly consulted by those who surround her as to what she should do.

In most of the churches and chapels yesterday some reference was made to the death of the duke. Canon Farrar preached in Westminster abbey to a multitude that thronged every foot of space. He touchingly alluded to the loss which the royal family had suffered, and to the sympathy which went out from all grades to the Prince and Princess of Wales, to the betrothed deprived by death of the princely you who had sought her hand in marriage, and to the venerable queen. The canon spoke of the deceased—his pure and blameless character and his sincere efforts to fit himself for the august place which he would have occupied.

In the churches of Dublin also the death of the duke was a theme with nearly all the pastors. The lord lieutenant and his lady attended St. Patrick's, which was draped in mourning. This and other Episcopal churches were more than usually thronged on account of the occasion.

The Tenth Hussars has been ordered to England to attend the funeral of the Duke of Clarence, who held the rank of captain in this regiment. The duke was also honorary colonel of the Fourth regiment of cavalry, known as Prince Albert Victor's guards.

The coffin containing the body now rests in Sandringham church. No notice was given of the time of removal. At 10 o'clock on Friday night the great doors of the hall opened and the head servants appeared bearing the coffin, which they solemnly carried to the church. The officers of the household accompanied the procession. The church was draped in mourning, and the candles threw a flickering light on the scene. There was no ceremony, the coffin being laid on a raised platform, on which it will remain until the removal to Windsor on Wednesday morning.

LYING IN STATE.

Fifty Thousand People Look Upon the Remains of Cardinal Manning.

LONDON, Jan. 18.—Not less than 50,000 persons visited yesterday the body of Cardinal Manning, lying in state in the Chapel Ardent in the cardinal's house at Westminster. Most of the visitors were working people, and many of the testified by tears to their affection for the departed prelate, an affection apparently, which had nothing to do with religion, as it was evidently all the large majority had come irrespective of religious faith. Among the visitors were leaders of nearly every trade organization in London, and outside they could be heard expressing in earnest tones their appreciation of the dead cardinal's services to the cause of labor.

Chief Rabbi Nathan M. Adler, alluded in his services Saturday to the breadth and humanity of Cardinal Manning's mind, and especially to his cordial support of the effort to obtain amelioration of the condition of the persecuted Hebrews of Russia. In most of the churches and chapels there was some mention of the cardinal as well as of the duke.

Anarchist Agitators Arrested.

BERLIN, Jan. 18.—Several anarchist agitators were arrested at Wiesenthal yesterday for inducing colliers, who had been on a strike and had resumed work, to again leave the mines. The supporters of the agitators attempted to prevent the arrests, and surrounded the accused, defying the gendarmes. Their numbers were formidable, and for some time they succeeded in keeping the representatives of the law at bay, but the latter being finally reinforced, the riotous miners were forced to abandon the unequal contest and disperse.

Bishop Katzer Resigns.

ROME, Jan. 18.—The bishop of Green Bay, Wis., the Right Rev. Frederick Xavier Katzer, D. D., has sent his resignation to the Vatican. It will not be accepted.

Wreck on the Baltimore and Ohio.

CUMBERLAND, Md., Jan. 18.—A disastrous wreck occurred on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad yesterday morning about 6 o'clock near Harper's Ferry. It was caused by a freight train breaking in two, and the engine being unable to control his train, ran into another standing at the station. Several cars were derailed and the track torn up for several hundred feet. Four persons were injured but no lives lost.

WHITE CAP OUTRAGES.

Cruel Treatment of a Man and Woman in Auglaize County, Ohio.

St. Mary's, O., Jan. 18.—Charles Peterson, aged twenty-five, living in adultery with Miss Mary Shelbrook, near St. Johns, this county, was the receiver of a White Cap notice, Thursday night, to leave the county in less than twenty-four hours, or he would be tarred and feathered. He failed to make good his escape, and was taken by twelve masked men Friday night and given a cold bath in Green creek, near by.

Miss Mary tried to escape from the mob, but was also taken in custody and given a cold bath. The White Caps cut a hole in the ice and lifted them up and down by holding their hands, through the hole in the ice.

A traveling man named Culbertson, from Cincinnati, was stopping at St. Johns, and claims it was the worst case he ever heard of, as the couple were very poor, and scarcely had enough clothing to keep them warm. They had been living in a small, abandoned hut in the woods for several months, and Peterson was a hard working man, trying to keep the wolf from the door. They were made to pack their few things together and depart after receiving the bath.

The White Caps set fire to the hut and watched it burn to the ground. It is thought the band consisted of farmers living near by, and it has since been learned that Miss Mary had been sick for several weeks, and after being bathed in the creek and made to depart in the night took seriously ill, and was unable to travel, and was taken in by Mr. Henry, a farmer, and is now lying at the point of death at his home. The White Caps are being looked after by special officers, and the woman's death will cause the arrest of several well-to-do farmers.

SAILORS' DANGERS.

Incoming Vessels Report Extremely Rough Weather at Sea.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—Captain Phelan, of the steamer Vandyck, (British) from Rio Janeiro, reports Jan. 8, latitude 14.15 north, longitude 45.16 west, fell in with the steamer Otto, of Newcastle, England, which had lost her propeller. He offered assistance, but they declined, as a boat would be sent ashore to Martinique.

The ship City of Hankow, British, from Aleppo had violent gales for the past fourteen days, during which a skylight was smashed, a wheel injured and her cabin flooded. She laid to under bare poles for forty-two hours.

Steamer America reports from Cape San Antonio she experienced severe gales and rough seas from every point. The America is from Livingstone, Guatemala. The captain says that the Lloyds agent from London had left Belize for the wrecked steamer Jamaica, with pumps and wrecking apparatus, to attempt the taking off of the Jamaica from Sattilla Kay.

Freight Wreck.

WAPARONETA, O., Jan. 18.—A freight wreck occurred here Saturday afternoon on the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton, at the south edge of town. The first section of 48 was standing on the main track. A flagman was sent back to signal the second division. The brakes were applied, but the slippery condition of the rails prevented the train from stopping. It crashed into and demolished the rear end of the first train; also, the locomotive of the second. The wreck immediately caught fire, but was extinguished by the fire department with the loss of several cars. Engineer Eich and the fireman, also a man in the caboose, escaped by jumping.

Found Dead in a Ditch.

GOSHEN, Ind., Jan. 18.—While two residents of South Milford were passing a ditch their hunting dog sprang into the ditch, and almost instantly leaped out with a startling howl. This drew the attention of the men to a dark object half buried in the snow, which proved to be the lifeless body of Eugene Nichols, who was subject to epilepsy, and probably fell into the pit in a fit, and either broke his neck or froze to death. He was lying upon his face, with his head doubled up under his breast.

Engine Dashes into a Parlor.

SPRINGFIELD, O., Jan. 18.—A remarkable accident happened here Saturday evening. Switch engine No. 33, Engineer Clark in charge, was pulling a loaded train of cars at Lagonda, when the engine suddenly broke from the train and dashed directly into William Morrison's parlor, situated twenty-five feet from the track. Mrs. Morrison and children were in the sitting room adjacent, and escaped injury. The entire side of the house was caved in.

Champion Egg-Sucker.

TIPTON, Ind., Jan. 18.—A very novel and interesting occurrence took place at the little village of Jacksena, just north of here, Saturday. It was an egg-sucking match. Daniel Kirtley, the champion egg-sucker of the state, broke his record of a year ago by sucking forty eggs in eight minutes, breaking the shells and swallowing the first twenty-four in five minutes. The contest was witnessed by several hundred people.

Street Car Strike Still Unsettled.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 18.—A conference between the employees and officials of the Pittsburgh, Manchester and Allegheny electric street railway, lasting from 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon until after midnight to try and settle the strike on that road, ended without any agreement having been reached. The company will attempt to run its cars with non-union men and trouble is feared.

Guatemala's New President.

CITY OF MEXICO, Jan. 18.—Dispatches have been received from Guatemala to the effect that Dr. Lainez has been elected president. Manuel A. Saborio, a Guatemalan exile in this country, will be made secretary of the treasury. He will leave for Guatemala in a few days.
